

Integrated Quality and Environmental Management System Policy

Aqualux Products Ltd design, manufacture and distribute shower enclosures, bath screens, shower trays and associated products from its facilities in Wednesbury and Aldridge and are committed to the care of the Environment and the Quality of its workmanship

Aqualux will provide, through the means of formal Quality and Environmental programmes, services and systems to meet the requirements of ISO9001: 2008 and ISO14001:2004 Management Systems.

These systems will be controlled by adopting the following principles and processes:

- Continuous monitoring, measurement and reviews of the Integrated Quality and Environmental Management Systems to ensure the company improves its effectiveness.
- Maintain and improve Quality and Environment activities, which can be seen to control the two systems through formal and clearly documented procedures supported by senior management.
- Communicate these programmes, activities and controls within an environment which in itself promotes the conditions required for a totally integrated Management System.
- Set, measure and review Quality and Environmental objectives and targets annually or when changes arise.
- Provide ongoing training which will promote and reflect the quality and integrity of the Company's policies, systems and operations, to ensure that the Company's objectives, targets and the associated responsibilities are understood at all levels.
- Conform to all current and relevant Quality and Environmental legislation and other requirements, whilst anticipating new legislation requirements and standards.
- Perform continual improvement of environmental performance and pollution prevention activities by utilising raw materials and energy in a manner that minimises waste.
- Provide a duty of care to employees, customers, suppliers, regulatory bodies, neighbours and interested parties.
- Maximise the re-use, rework and re-cycling of generated waste.
- Make this Policy available in written form and display it within specified areas of the premises.

This policy will be made available to the public upon request.
